

Postgraduate Research Showcase 2017

In addition to papers by established academics working in Ireland and Britain, Universities Ireland proposes to host a showcase of postgraduate research relating to this period of Irish history. To this end, the conference organisers welcome abstracts of no more than 200 words from postgraduate students working on the period 1916-18 in relation to Ireland or Britain. Successful applicants will be invited to give a ten-minute paper at the conference on their research. There are four places reserved in the conference programme for these talks.

Eligible applicants must be enrolled doctoral candidates in one of the ten universities on the island of Ireland and should submit their abstract to crossborder@qub.ac.uk along with a completed application form.

Universities Ireland will contribute reasonable expenses towards the travel expenses of successful applicants to the conference who are travelling from outside of Dublin.

Name:

Institution (Department/School, institution):

Thesis supervisor:

Date of commencement of doctoral programme:

Contact email address:

Postal address:

Contact telephone number:

Previous degree(s):

Applications should be submitted by email with an their abstract as a .pdf format attachment along with the details listed above no later than 4pm on 9 November 2017.